PREVIOUSLY, ON SUD WEB

Kevin Goldsmith, former lead engineer at Spotify, insists on the importance of the culture for a team, if you want to scale fast..

Bruce Lawson former web evangelist for Opera Software, reminds us with his very own british humour the dark consequences when you don't respect web standards.

Eva Lotta-Laam, former UX Designer at Google, held a workshop to show how sketching is a powerful tool for teams

Renaud Forestié, UX Designer, told us how its teams succeeded in increasing performance of high traffic press web sites, despite heavy constraints from french advertising companies.

Chris Lowis, Data Scientist at Future Learn demonstrated how the web browser is becoming the favorite music hackerz instrument thanks to Web Audio APIs.

Matthew Caruana Galizia, revealed us how a small dedicated team worked with the 2.6 To of data from the Panama Papers.

...and more than 100 various conférences to open your perspectives
available on the Web

Our current curation

(non-confirmed speakers)

Adeline Fradet facilite l'accès à la création et à la publication d'histoires numériques pour enfants sur tablettes, pour créer une bibliothèque d'histoires où l'imagination et la créativité n'auraient aucune limite.

Joe Edelman is a Data Scientist working on how to update the software offer with new mesures of users satisfaction.

Rafael Conde, designer at Netlify, works remotely from Portugal with US based developers and testifies of organisationnal modes with various people and culture.

Geoffrey Dorne, a well known french designer, recently published a crowdfounded book on public space reappropriation with hacking.

Hannah Wolfe told us how a small remote team managed to launch Ghost and raise 600k$ benefits in less than three years..

Laurent Chemla Gandi and Caliopen cofounder and Caliopen told us how hard it is for small teams to launch an infrastructure-based product.

Olivier Ertzscheid, researcher around digital identities shows us what is made with our (private) data and the danger with digital continental drift.

Sud Web is a non-profit organization whose members are volunteers and its only goal is to give the web Community a quality event in the South of France.*

We need you.

To help us rent a venue, record videos, hire a photographer and a visual facilitator, print badges and stickers, accommodate and feed speakers and attendees for two days.

We give you back a maximum of visibility, on the Web and during the event.
